Our Story

'Amazon John' Easterling, who holds a degree in Environmental Studies from the University of North Carolina, spent many years searching the Amazon Rainforest for treasures and ancient artifacts.

Peruvian healer shares ancient wisdom with company founder, 'Amazon John' Easterling.

During his years of exploration in the Rainforest, he was introduced to the traditional use of medicinal plants. After a health crisis and life-changing experience using these botanicals, a simple truth became clear: The real treasure of the Rainforest is, in fact, the life-enhancing properties of the Rainforest plants.

This discovery led to an exciting, cooperative enterprise with healthcare practitioners in several countries. For years, Amazon Herb formulas were only available from these practitioners.

As demand spread by word-of-mouth, Amazon Herb Company embraced a new model of distribution. Now, the real treasure of the Rainforest is available to everyone.

Featured as a visionary on Jean-Michel Cousteau's documentary Ocean Adventures "Return to the Amazon," John Easterling and his company were recognized as "the strongest testament that keeping the Rainforest alive and productive is more economically profitable than cutting it down."
