

Envirozon™

The Environmental Toxin Protector

Build A Wall of Rich Amazon Defense for Your 21st Century Environment

Our bodies are constantly under siege from pollutants and toxins of all kinds in today's world.

Whether it's mold in the home, dust & chemicals in the workplace, or exhaust fumes during the commute—we're surrounded by man-made environmental toxins that don't belong in our bodies any more than they belong in the environment.

What we need is a little something extra. We need a new kind of concentrated nutrition to offset the effect of uncontrollable environmental toxins...

That's where Envirozon™ comes in!

Envirozon™ assists the body's natural ability to cleanse and restore balance after exposure to environmental impurities.

Its strong antioxidant properties are particularly important to healthy liver function, which is the key to overall cleansing and detoxification of the body.

- Protects against environmental toxins*
- Supports healthy liver and kidney function*
- Helps the body eliminate toxins*

By providing your body with an instant transfusion of Envirozon™'s Rainforest botanicals, you're giving your body the resources it needs to guard itself against a whole world of toxins and pollutants. So you can keep performing at the top of your game, regardless of what your environment throws at you.

"These products give me the best energy I've ever had. The Rainforest is bigger than life. I love being part of that."

- Melanie Murray, Singer Island, FL

Proven Rainforest Botanicals for Better Balance in Any Environment

Jurubeba facilitates the body's ability to reduce toxic excesses. Jurubeba is listed as an official drug in the Brazilian Pharmacopeia used to treat anemia and liver disorders. In 1965, Dr. G. L. Cruz wrote that "...the roots, leaves, and fruit are used as a tonic and decongestive. It stimulates the digestive functions and reduces the swelling of the liver and spleen."

Chanca piedra fortifies the body's natural filtering organs while stimulating the defense system. According to Dr. James Duke, former USDA head botanist, Chanca Piedra "is considered a digestive, a diuretic, and a laxative."

Uña de gato's reputation as an overall cleansing agent is well known and documented.* The Ashaninka, an Indigenous tribe, have the longest recorded history of use with the plant, using it to treat the respiratory system, as a kidney cleanser, to control stomach irritations and maintain a strong digestive system.

Guard your body against today's toxins and pollutants with Envirozon™.

"All my life I lived with many food and environmental allergies. When I started taking the Amazon herbs, especially Envirozon™, I was amazed at my ability to function in environments I never could before."
